Appointment in THEOLOGY (Religious Studies)

Corpus Christi College invites applicants for a five-year position at the rank of Assistant Professor, running from May 1, 2015 – April 30, 2020, with possibility of renewal.

We seek an outstanding and enthusiastic scholar who has a demonstrated excellence in teaching and learning, as well as course and program development across a range of formats: Socratic, online, interdisciplinary, hybrid, and cross-curricular. The successful candidate will possess proven expertise in contemporary Roman Catholic Theology, including the capacity to teach courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels. In addition, the candidate should feel comfortable teaching courses in a wide range of the Catholic theological tradition, with awareness of historical context as well as theological unity across those areas.

While the area of research specialization is open, teaching is required in broad areas of our curriculum, and may include the following areas:

- Introduction to the Social Teachings of the Catholic Church
- The teachings of the Second Vatican Council
- Ethics and Morality

A background in an area of Catholicism and Culture would also be considered an asset.

The successful candidate will be expected to fulfill a teaching load of six courses/classes throughout the academic terms, and will in addition be expected to share in service responsibilities in support of Corpus Christi and St. Mark’s Colleges, including attending and participating in the meetings of the Educational Council and participating in some of its related duties.

Preference will be given to applicants with a Ph.D. or equivalent terminal degree, in hand or near completion (including defense of the doctoral dissertation), by the date the appointment begins. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority in this search.

Applications, including curriculum vitae, three letters of reference (sent electronically by the referees), statement of teaching philosophy, as well as an example of scholarly writing, should be sent by email to: HR@corpuschristi.ca

Hiring will be in keeping with the “Corpus Christi College Founding Document” and Ex Corde Ecclesiae. The successful candidate must be able to receive a Mandatum from the Archbishop of Vancouver. All application materials must be received by January 16, 2015.
